According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), there were 42,642 traffic fatalities in the United States during 2006, on top of a staggering 2.5 million injuries. Although many of these auto accidents resulted in relatively minor injuries, too many led to severe injuries, including spinal cord injury and traumatic brain injury, which were not the fault of the victims. If you have been injured or a loved one has been killed in a motor vehicle accident, our compassionate and dedicated attorneys can help you file a personal injury or wrongful death lawsuit.

Depending on the circumstances of the case, you may be eligible for financial compensation for medical costs, rehabilitation costs, loss of wages (including future wages), and pain and suffering. In the event of a loved one's death, we will work to ensure that you obtain the compensation that your family deserves, including compensation for the loss of a companionship and support, pain and suffering, loss of income, and funerary costs. Serving Sarasota, Bradenton, and Greater Southwest Florida, a lawyer who handles auto accident cases from Lutz, Bobo & Telfair, P.A., has the experience and knowledge necessary to handle even the most complex personal injury and wrongful death cases.

Common Causes of Auto Accidents

In the event of an auto accident, the at-fault party is responsible for all damages. In the event of an auto accident in which both parties are at fault, the party deemed to have been primarily responsible is liable for damages proportionate to his or her share of fault. Our attorneys can review your case and help determine which party is at fault if you have been in a traffic accident. Any of the following common causes of auto accidents may be grounds for filing a personal injury lawsuit:

- Drunk driving
- Driver inattentiveness
- Driver fatigue
- Speeding
- Reckless driving
- Product defects
- Road defects
