

GSK, P & G Denture Cream Suits

The U.S. Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation has transferred several more suits to the ever-expanding litigation in Florida federal court over whether zinc in denture creams made by GlaxoSmithKline PLC units and the Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co. caused neurological diseases. Source: Product Liability LAW360: September 15, 2009. If you believe that you or a family member has been injured by these products, contact our law firm and we can assist you with your potential product liability claim.