

Philadelphia Jury Slaps GSK with $2.5M Paxil Verdict

A Philadelphia jury on Tuesday returned a $2.5 million verdict against GlaxoSmithKline in a product liability case alleging that 3-year-old Lyam Kilker was born with a rare heart defect as a result of his mother's use of Paxil during pregnancy. Source: Product Liability Law 360