

Yamaha Motor Fails to Nix Suit in Rhino MDL

A federal judge has rejected Yamaha Motor Corp. USA's attempt to escape a suit in the multidistrict product liability litigation accusing it of failing to properly warn consumers about the potential of its Rhino all-terrain vehicles to tip over during slow-speed turns. Source: Product Liability Law360